Ironing Out the Details: A Thorough Review of Iron Therapies

Session Date: 03/01/2022

Session Time: 11:00 – 11:45 AM (CST)

Target Audience

This continuing education (CE) session was planned to meet the needs of professional staff who deal with the selection and monitoring of medication(s) as part of their patient care duties, including pharmacists, RNs, APRNs, PAs, MDs.

Activity Overview

Iron deficiency anemia is one of the most common types of anemias that can be simply corrected with iron supplementation. However, with several therapy options available, providers often question what the optimal treatment is for their patient especially given the historical association of intravenous iron with infusion reactions. This presentation will review available iron deficiency anemia treatment options and the current literature regarding select disease states in which iron therapy provides an added benefit.

Learning Objectives

At the conclusion of this knowledge-based CE session, participants should be able to:

1. Define therapeutic options and appropriate dosing methods for oral iron replacement
2. Identify the various intravenous iron therapies and discuss product differences
3. Review literature of select disease states in which intravenous iron therapy is utilized
