A Rumble in the Fungal Jungle: Review of the New Antifungal Agents

Session Date: 06/13/2023

Session Time: 11:00 – 11:45 AM (CST)

Target Audience

This continuing education (CE) session was planned to meet the needs of professional staff who deal with the selection and monitoring of medication(s) as part of their patient care duties, including pharmacists, RNs, APRNs, PAs, MDs.

Activity Overview

The World Health Organization released the first ever fungal priority pathogens priority list in 2022, several years after drawing attention to concerning bacterial pathogens. This new priority list sheds light not only on the lack of attention given to invasive fungal infections but also the concern for increasing resistance with invasive fungal infections. A rumble has been brewing in the fungal jungle and several new antifungal agents are coming through the pipeline, focusing on where drug resistance and other management challenges exist. This presentation will discuss several new agents that provide alternative formulations, circumvent barriers of administration, and introduce novel mechanisms to cover current gaps that exist in antifungal coverage.

Learning Objectives

At the conclusion of this knowledge-based CE session, participants should be able to:

1. Review the advantages and disadvantages of traditional antifungal agents
2. Discuss novel antifungal agents and primary literature evaluating their safety and efficacy
3. Identify the role of novel antifungal agents in antimicrobial therapy
